Orientation and Registration are Rerun with a Computer Twist

Discovering what DIRECTIONS to follow was for many students the focal point of orientation. They were also introduced to regulations and guidelines that they would be expected to remember.

This year's registration enabled the juniors and seniors to take the teachers they selected during the periods available. This system is similar to ones used in many colleges and universities. The freshmen and sophomores were registered previously in the spring.

Their freedom to make decisions about the year's DIRECTIONS provided real learning experiences. This demonstrated how basic decisions can determine the outcome of an entire year, decade, or lifetime.

Students Seek New and Old Trends in Entertainment

1980 opens new DIRECTIONS of entertainment. Various outlets for fun and excitement are offered to satisfy whatever mood you are in, from miniature golfing to roller skating, or playing pin ball machines at Blackbeard's. Students were seen playing with electronic games, video tape recorders, and computer-TV games. Simon, Einstein, electronic football and baseball, and even electronic backgammon led in popularity, but students preferred personal relationships for their leisure time to many of these new electronic marvels of the 80's.

Strong DIRECTION Inspired Campus Fun.

DIRECTION requires leadership that can set positive trends for the present and the future. The activities were designed to bring out spirit from the people who follow many different DIRECTIONS. Ms. Clemens, the Activities director, Mr. Smart, the art services teacher, teamed-up to put on some of the best student activities at R.H.S.

Mr. Anderson tuned-up the band to become another award winner. The pillow-people, ice cream eating contest, the "noon rallies", and noon dances, were highlights not soon to be forgotten. Student leadership was evident in the planning and carrying out of these exciting on-campus events.

Rain and Pageantry Climax Homecoming Week

Tradition provided a DIRECTION of nostalgia. Through the sprinkling rain and the loss of the game against Hoover, Roosevelt's Homecoming spirit carried on. Old members of Rally, Cheer, Letter, and Flag groups returned from last year to perform. Each football player had a sponsor represent him by running out to greet him in matching numbered jersey.

The Homecoming Dance was on the preceding night, during which the voting for Queen took place. In tears of joy, Mary Ann Reyes was crowned by last year's Homecoming Queen, Becky Combs, during half-time.

The band proudly took first place in the car decorating contest, which centered around the theme "Memories of Green and Gold". Cars preceding the contest carried the Queen's attendants and the newly introduced class princesses, who were this year's addition to our many Homecoming traditions.

RHS Sports Program Expands in New DIRECTIONS

Participation in school sports follows many DIRECTIONS. Outlooks on life, physical fitness, competition, and teamwork are all avenues connected with the sports world. Some sports take planning, such as football, while others like waterpolo rely more on endurance. Volleyball on the other hand, takes great team co-operation and then there is gymnastics; which is more about individual effort.

Physical fitness is becoming more important to many as more people are exercising as well as dieting.

While stress was on football, baseball, and basketball at RHS in 1980, there was a growing interest in gymnastics. Altogether, the year of sports at Roosevelt provided experiences in winning and losing, both a large part of life.

School Squads Ignite Spirit

Fantastic assemblies, under bright flashing lights, held our attention as we heard speeches that inspired us, and praised our student body.

Rallies on the senior patio "hyped" up our student body for the night games. The band led the rallies with a strong and proud rhythm as the pep squads, lettergirls, and flag girls followed in step. The team members often joined the skits and stunts with surprising results!

Because of our rallies and assemblies, pride reigned high over the student body at RHS in 1980. It was a major DIRECTION in building students of strong character, united spirit, and determination.

Years of Service Direct Dedication of 1980 Nautilus

Because she has been devoted to Roosevelt High School for a great number of years, the 1980 Nautilus staff dedicates this 49th volume to secretary, Mrs. Marge Gerard. Starting Roosevelt as a student in 1927, the then Miss Margaret Clark attended for four years. She was active in stagecraft, the library program, Girl's League, and the Girl's Glee Club. She also served as Editor of the Roosevelt News one year and was Yell Leader in 1929. After graduating in 1931, she attended San Joaquin Business College.

She returned to Roosevelt in 1945 as Mrs. Earl R. Gerard and has been a secretary at Roosevelt for the last 34 years. When asked why his wife has stayed at RHS for so many years, Mr. Gerard replied, "She just loves her work and the school."

Involvement was the key to an exciting year at RHS. This year more and more students discovered participation and its many benefits. Extra effort on behalf of the teams, spirit squads, and the band combined to present Roosevelt with very exciting noon rallies. But the involvement didn't stop there. At Club Expo, clubs enjoyed an unusually high number of students pledging for membership. Creative assemblies were welcomed throughout the entire year and disco and rock music at dances interested many who were often not involved.

Events Highlight Homecoming

Continuing in the DIRECTION of tradition, Homecoming at Roosevelt was a week of enthusiastic events. Kicking off the noon time activities was a rally on the senior patio with all spirit squads and the RHS Band participating. Rootbeer guzzling, pizza and ice cream eating contests, popular music played by favorite DJ, Richard Harvey, and registration for clubs, all took place on the senior patio.

Both the Queen, and Mr. Touchdown, were voted for at the Homecoming Dance. Richard Harvey's sounds created such an energy level that everyone could have danced all night.

Steve Klein was crowned Mr. Touchdown by Shane Goedhard at one of the most vivacious assemblies ever held at Roosevelt. Performances by Dolly Parton(s) had everyone roaring with laughter and the "pillow-people" received a standing ovation as they danced around the stage to the popular song "Firecracker".

Even when the week ended with a loss to Hoover, pride, and spirit prevailed throughout the halftime presentation and even the light rain that fell during the crowning of the Queen. Tradition will always be a part of Roosevelt as will remembrances of "Memories of Green and Gold", the theme of the 1979 Homecoming.

New Director Begins With Comedy

This year's drama class set out to present top rate productions to the Roosevelt community and student body. They got off to an outstanding start with Neil Simon's "Come Blow Your Horn".

Under the direction of new drama instructor, Mr. Mike Dyer, the play was a great success. The play, held in the Little Theater, dealt with the characters, Alan Baker, a big man about town, played by Tim Thompson, and his brother, Buddy, the exact opposite, played by Darren Hicks. In the course of the play the two wind up exchanging roles, for a comical twist.

Mr. Dyer intended to produce several other plays later in the year.

Language
A Small Barrier

Ageo, Japan was the first home of Mieko Hashimoto, Roosevelt's only girl exchange student from Japan. Mieko enjoyed attending Roosevelt and especially liked the spectator sports. One of the main differences between schools in the United States and those in Japan, Mieko said, was that, "Teachers move from room to room and the students remain in the same place all day." Mieko lived with the Houghland family during her stay and immediately adopted them as her second family.

Bernard Delcourt liked Fresno and found Americans "very open and nice." Bernard found Roosevelt very different from his school in Louvain-La-Neuve, Belguim. "It is one fourth the size of Roosevelt and has more of a variety of courses." Speaking French and English fluently, he still found the language a barrier because the European and American dialects are so different. Bernard resided with the Rowell family during his stay in America.

Drivers Finally Recognized

Although faculty, custodians, and cooks are commonly featured in school yearbooks, bus drivers, a most important asset to the school, have rarely been acknowledged.

A group of eight drivers regularly serve Roosevelt students. Though not everyone has the privilege of riding with these dedicated people, most students have come to appreciate their services at athletic events, on rooter and activity buses, and on field trips.

Many bus riders know their drivers by first name, and recognize the safe and efficient transportation they provide.

Bus drivers have not appeared in many high school publications, including the Nautilus, for several years. Their absence from the book was brought to the attention of the Nautilus at the beginning of the year by Driver, Dave Gowen. It is our sincerest hope that these devoted district employees will not be overlooked in future editions of the Nautilus.

Students Earn For Many Reasons

Part-time jobs are a common part of the day for many students at Roosevelt. Though few, if any, students depend on their employment for housing, food, or utilities, most find numerous things to spend their weekly paychecks on, such as cars, clothes, and stereos.

Other students diligently save their hard earned money for a future college education. Still others intend to stay at their jobs after high school graduation, in hopes of future promotions and higher wages.

Whatever the reason for having a job, it takes more than ordinary effort to work and maintain one's school grades at the same time. But, it's "all in a day's work" for a Rough Rider.

Year Carries On Tradition

RHS seniors have traditionally organized events to end their memorable years at Roosevelt, and this year was no exception.

The seniors again visited Disneyland for their fun filled evening. This year a fund raiser was held to help students pay for both Grad Night and the Junior Senior prom.

Graduation was, for the second year in a row, held at the Convention Center's Selland Arena. With their graduation, and the receiving of their diplomas, the seniors left the world of high school into their future worlds.

The senior class was led by their officers, Anna Melgoza (President), Tom Emerzian (Vice President), Michael Olge (Secretary), and Theresa Riley (Treasurer). Traditional events were: Senior announcements, baccalaureate, graduation, and the designing of the senior plaque for the class of 1980.

Nation Held Captive

Throughout the school year, controversial triumphs and tragedies rocked the nation.

Political turmoil reigned supreme with the take-over of the American embassy in Iran and the Russian invasion of Afghanistan. With these happenings, President Carter called for a boycott of the Summer Olympic Games in Moscow, stopping the exportation of goods to the Soviet Union, and the possible reinstatement of the registration for the draft.

The consumer was hurt by rising costs and the devalued dollar. Inflation reached great heights as gasoline prices rose to $1.50 per gallon in some parts of the nation. Gold and silver prices soared, as gold went over $800 an ounce and silver became popular for use in rebates when buying goods and services.

With the 1980 presidential campaign nearing, the public began backing various candidates. With the way he handled the Iranian crisis, President Carter began gaining support from Democrats across the nation which gave him a substantial lead over the other candidates, especially Senator Kennedy, in many of the primaries.

In California, the Howard Jarvis backed initiative, Proposition 9 or jokingly called "Jaws II", was put on the ballot. The voters were promised that with the passage of the proposition drastic cuts in state income tax would follow. One of the major shortcomings of the proposition was that the cutbacks would greatly effect the state's school budget, causing less monies available which could lead to the elimination of interscholastic sporting events.

Locally, Fresno was ripped by a rarely seen tornado! The loss was estimated at nearly $500,000 with the main damage at the Fresno Air Terminal. Freeway 41 was a controversial issue in Fresno this year. The freeway began construction as six Lanes, but with a rise in construction cost of $6 million, the State Transportation Board proposed a four-lane freeway. Mayor Daniel Whitehurst vowed to fight the proposal of four lanes while considering the possibility of the city of Fresno financing part of the construction.

(Opposite page, bottom right) The Proposition 9 initiative, sometimes called Jaws II, as in the recent movie, would drastically cut the state income taxes if passed. (Top, right) A collage of various headlines show some events of the year: the decision of the draft registration, the Iranian crisis, the great rise in oil prices, the Olympic hockey gold, and the possibility of a boycott of the Summer Olympic Games.

Students Face Decisions

With controversy abounding throughout the world, RHS students were faced with decisions to make.

The invasion of Afghanistan and the crisis in Iran made students realize that they may have to register for the armed forces and eventually go to war.

New voters were faced with the 1980 presidential campaign and made up a good part of the voting public. The issue of Proposition 9 was a main concern since passing of the proposition would have meant a great cut in the state taxes, and less monies for schools.

Learning to spend money wisely was important as inflation soared. Gas prices rose to nearly $1.30 per gallon and students began looking for alternate forms of transportation. The price of gold skyrocketed to over $800 an ounce. Movies went up in price, but it did not stop the public from seeing such smash hits as "Kramer vs. Kramer", "The Jerk", "10", "Star Trek", and "All That Jazz".

A new and sometimes refound faith in religion swept across the nation as the Pope visited the US. In speeches, he scorned such controversial issues as the pill and abortion.

Another tragedy that marked the year was the tragic deaths of eleven teenagers at "The Who" concert in Cincinnati, prompting reserved seats at local concerts.

(Opposite page, bottom left) The Pope's visit to the U.S. caused a change in some religious thinking. (Top, center) With the tragic deaths of 11 teenagers in Cincinnati concerts across the nation began selling only reserved seats. 1980 Sees New Tradition

"Roosevelt Lettergirls were outstanding this year!!", said lettergirl Susan Molina. The lettergirls took second place in parade and first place in halftime show during the Selma Band Review.

The lettergirls are a hardworking group of girls who practice four hours a week. Lettergirls changed a tradition this year; they don't have a stripe on their skirts, nor do they wear a white shield on their uniforms.

Although the majorettes could not go into competition this year, the band highly appreciated them working so hard. The majorettes needed three to a squad to enter in competition and only had two, according to majorette Susan Webster. Even though they didn't have competitions, they did an excellent job in halftime activities and during the games.

Work and Color Add to the Year

Short Flag Girls were a group of hard working students that created a colorful aspect of the Rough Rider Band. The girls practiced with the band every day, during and after school. The group took first place in the Selma Band Review as well as a second place in parade events at the same review.

Halftime shows gave the group the opportunity to display their excellent precision with their flags and their marching skills. Cathy Ceballos, the Short Flag Head, made certain the girls practiced hard for competitions. The Tall Flag Girls worked hard under the supervision of their head, Debbie Flores, to attain accuracy and skill in the half-time shows.

Band Wins With New DIRECTIONS

Working toward precision styles of marching and impressive performances, the Roosevelt Band had a very arduous job. Under the DIRECTION of the new Band Director, Mr. Don Anderson and State Champion Drum Major, Troy Walls, the Band practiced playing and performing in field formation for the many competitions, parades, and halftime shows.

RHS spirit was raised when the Band marched around the campus at noon rallies. Many assemblies began when the band came down the aisles of the auditorium. Starting their year of competition with the Madera Band Review, both Drum Major Troy Walls and the Short Flag Girls took second place. At the Fresno District Fair's Battle of the Bands, Roosevelt placed 4th in the street competition. Higher recognition came later in the season at events such as the Selma Band Review, where the Rider Band received first place in the halftime competition and second place in the street competition. Further along down the road of competitions, Roosevelt did an outstanding job at the First Annual California State Competition Clovis Band Review. There the Band placed second in field competition and third in street competition. Drum Major Troy Walls placed third in the Mace Division and first overall in the field division.

Varsity Squads Ignite Spirit

Through the years the Riders have been known for their powerful spirit. This enthusiasm is derived from the varsity pep and cheer squads.

The girls worked all year long at fund raising to support their ideas and keep excitement going through the sports season. Different themes were used each time. Because the team's spirit is just as important as the student body's, the boys' gym was decorated and a party was thrown in honor of the team from time to time.

Spirit Directions Are Seen

The Junior Varsity and Freshman Cheerleaders worked hard to keep the spirit and enthusiasm going through the year. Since this was their first year in high school, the Sophomores and Freshmen were especially enthusiastic! Jackie Vargas and Karen Hovland co-headed the Junior Varsity Squad while Rosalind Bennett guided the Freshman Cheerleaders. Extra duties included; decorating the stadiums, gyms, and tracks, as well as the many extra hours of practice and drill.

School Involves Both Fun and Work

The Roosevelt Nautilus salutes those who made involvement their goal in 1980. Students found many ways to keep busy besides the daily homework routine. Whether it was playing in the band or "getting down" to the music at a noontime sock hop, most students were able to make the year an enjoyable one.

For some students cheering their school teams on to victory or producing a memory packed yearbook made school more of a pleasure than a pain.

School doesn't just have to be a learning place as many students have found. Although school work takes up a good part of the day, students still found time to have fun. Getting all your frustrations out by dancing to the latest Michael Jackson record or doing that routine just one more time to make sure everything is perfect, were two alternatives. Other students forgot about that up-coming yearbook deadline for a minute by making a human pyramid on a sunny day.

Language Fair Unites Clubs

Hosting Mardi-Gras, the French Club used the event, as well as a language fair, and a language trip to Monterey to promote interest in French culture. During Christmas vacation, members sang Christmas carols in French to patients at a convalescent hospital. The club raised their money by selling French delicacies at Mardi-Gras and various bake sales throughout the year.

The German Club was also involved with the Foreign Language Fair and Mardi-Gras. Besides making money from Mardi-Gras, the club, under the leadership of president Brooke Gerard, raised funds from poster sales and a turkey raffle. The purpose for all this was to expose Roosevelt students to the German culture and language.

Showing their unity, the French and German clubs came together and exchanged gifts at their Christmas party.

Clubs See Service and Fun

Green and Gold, the only men's service club, has been a major DIRECTION on the Roosevelt campus for over 30 years. With Mr. Len Barton as their sponsor, Green and Gold boosted RHS in both service and spirit by taking an active part in school activities and projects. Led by president Mike Pearce, members participated in their club's annual events of cleaning the senior plaques, painting a new school map on campus, and supporting Mardi Gras and Homecoming week activities.

Tri-12, Green and Gold's sister club, also participated in activities that benefited the community as well as Roosevelt. Club sponsor, Mr. Dave Sischo, and president Brenda Howard, along with all the club members, threw a successful Christmas party for the retarded and handicapped at Ginsburg School. Other highlights were the outstanding pledge week and traditional basketball game against Boadicea.

Clubs Prepare For Future

Roosevelt's Future Farmers of America once again competed with other F.F.A. chapters throughout the state of California in various categories of agriculture. With Miss Woodcock in her second year as club sponsor, Roosevelt's F.F.A. exhibited animal projects at the Fresno Fair. The far reaching goal of the club was to provide it's members with the necessary background for an agriculture career.

Using the funds they raised by selling cards and candy at Valentine's Day, Roosevelt's chapter of Future Homemakers of America was able to participate in the Palo Alto statewide competition. The competition was centered around the skills of sewing and cooking. F.H.A. is a national organization built from local chapters whose purpose is to try and prepare students for life beyond high school.

Marimba Adds Culture To R.H.S.

1969 was the first year Roosevelt was introduced to the Marimba Band. This year the Marimba Band is bigger and better than ever. The dancers were under the direction of Mrs. Amparo DeAnda and the band director, Mr. David Manjarrez.

Marimba group consisted of 50 members in which teamwork was the key factor for outstanding performances. The group was recognized not only in Fresno but in Mexico City as well! They highlighted banquets and many other schools with their Mexican cultural dances and music. The Marimba band also recorded an album which promised to be a big hit.

Many seniors leave the Marimba band with pride and dignity for what they have accomplished. The breath-taking performers who highlighted the Marimba's Annual Show were Mike Ramirez, guitar soloist, as well as the extraordinary vocalist, Viola Rendon. Unlike previous years, the marimba was played by a young lady, Mona Esparza.

Participation Pays Off

The Roosevelt High School Forensics Team did well in tournaments this year. Under the leadership of Mr. Greg Bundy, the forensics team participated in many tournaments, including a district, as well as an invitational one for the region made up of teams from California, Arizona, and Oregon. In league competition the Roosevelt team walked away with five trophies, including a second place in sweepstakes.

Don Hartsock was outstanding in competition, taking a second place in oratory. In the county tournament, which was held at McLane High School, Richard Rowell finished with a first place.

At the Clovis West tournament the team also did well. They took a first place in expository, second place in dramatic interpretation and a third place in humorous interpretation.

Taking Forensics has taught the students to be able to communicate in front of crowds with some dramatic involvement.

Clubs Succeed And Fail

This year's Backpacking and Fishing Club was led by first year sponsor Mr. Bob Kincaide. President Leonard Soam, with the help of Vice-President, Lowell Schneider, organized the club's activities. Mountain retreats in the winter months and trips to the coast during the spring semester were planned. The Backpacking and Fishing Club was a popular club on the Roosevelt campus because it gave the students a chance to get away from their daily school routine.

Being one of the popular clubs on campus last year, it was hard to understand why the Ski Club couldn't get their feet off the ground, or should we say on the slopes. Due to a small membership and limited funds, no ski trips were planned. Hopefully next year the Ski Club will once again become the club it could be.

This year the Jr. Larcs, under the leadership of Mrs. Flo Carter, helped provide activities for the mentally retarded by hosting parties and dances.

New Sponsors Meet Goals

Giving new DIRECTION to the Lettermen's Club was first year club sponsor, Coach Bob Meyers' goal. With the leadership of president Ken Rollans, the members brought new pride and honor to the club, making this year one of its most successful in its history at Roosevelt. During the winter months, Lettermen chopped firewood to raise funds to attend pro athletic events and for their trip to the snow. Lettermen also attended their fellow athletes' events and supported them with spirit and pride.

Also new to club sponsoring was Mr. Nelson Russel, who replaced past Boadicea sponsor Mr. Ralph Wood. Club president Gwen Martin led members in providing service for both Roosevelt and the community. During Christmas time members visited hospitals to boost the morale of the infirmed. Major fund raisers for the club were a concession stand at RHS basketball games and the selling of carnations at Christmas break and Valentines' Day.

Scholars Get Involved

Members of the California Scholarship Federation had to achieve and maintain high grade-point averages to gain admission to the club.

Traditionally, CSF sponsors a Christmas formal. Members worked much of the first semester on organizing the event. A band was reserved and decorations were ready to be set up at Fresno State's Residence Hall. It looked as if this year's formal would be a good one. But, unfortunately, not enough bids were sold and the dance had to be cancelled.

CSF raised money with the aid of a booth at Mardi-Gras. They used this money to help pay for their Spring trip to San Francisco. Remaining funds were used for small scholarships awarded to club members who excelled academically.

Higher achievement is honored at graduation when Life CSF members receive their diplomas first.

Working Together Successful

Coming together and performing as one group this year were the Roosevelt Madrigals and the Chorus. Since the groups had a regular class, there was practice every day. This hard practicing enabled them to perform well in front of the numerous junior highs they toured.

Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Reta, and student teacher Mr. Steve Alcala kept the Madrigals and Chorus together during their successful year.

Although there were some who joined the groups for a musical background before entering college as a music major, everyone enrolled was a part of the Madrigals and Chorus and found personal enjoyment.

Dedication Proves Worthwhile

Members of the 1980 Nautilus staff found out what dedication is really all about. Although some students suffered through the year trying to meet deadlines, others worked well under the pressure. There were many weekend meetings and late night sessions to put the yearbook together. Junior co-editors Melinda Morris and David Nunez, in addition to being inexperienced at editing, had the extra burden of working under a $3,000 debt made by a previous Nautilus staff. With the support of advisor Mr. Dick Daniels, the 1980 co-editors worked to build a yearbook that the Roosevelt student body would be proud of now and in the future.

Providing students with information of school events was what the Rough Rider News strived to do. Mr. Michael Neer provided the staff with leadership and the advice needed to publish the highly acclaimed newspaper. With Lydia Malagon as their editor, the staff worked everyday gathering information for various stories, articles, and reports.

Training Yields Success

Roosevelt High School's first place Cadet Drill Team was under the leadership of Captain Roy Mattox. They attended a ten day summer camp in San Luis Obispo where they learned new and different leadership drill techniques. In May they also had a bivouac, where they were taught how to use first aid and drill techniques.

Some of the Cadets were also awarded scholarship ribbons, but all the summer training paid off at competitions.

Participating in the Veteren's Day Parade, the R.H.S. Cadets were awarded First Place in drill competitions. Earlier in the year they also attended a rifle match where Major Ken York was awarded third place in the shooting competition.

After hard work all year, the R.H.S. Cadets attended a Cadet Ball at the Oaks Lodge, where all the Cadets from Fresno had an enjoyable evening.

Funds and Fun Goal of Year

The Black Student Union, sponsored by Mr. Dave Krause, started the year with fund-raisers. They sold Reese's candies to the student body at basketball games. A sock hop was put on by B.S.U. for Valentine's Day, which turned out to be a great way to spend the lunch hour.

A new club was added to the Roosevelt campus this year. Mr. Ruben Elias sponsored the International Club which tried to promote social activities for the Spanish speaking students. The club members enjoyed themselves at the end of the year by having a formal dinner-dance.

Christian Clubs Seek Christ

Introducing others to a growing relationship and knowledge of Christ is what Campus Life is all about. Norm Wiens led Roosevelt students in weekly club meetings and numerous Bible studies, as well as in county wide events such as a Goose Chase, Living End, which is a three day retreat, and Powderpuff Football.

Coach Bob Myers and Mr. Ben Ainley worked closely with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes' officers in organizing a club retreat to the mountains during February. Trips to professional athletic events and listening to guest speakers were also a part of the group's activities. Many FCA members participated in local weekend camps and a summer camp in Ashland, Oregon. All of these events were used to expose athletes to Christianity and to a personal relationship with Christ.

Pep Band Motivates Students

Once again this year, the Roosevelt Pep Band did a fine job providing music, such as the National Anthem and fight songs for the Rally and Flag Girls at the basketball games. This year marked the first for the band to be under the DIRECTION of Mr. Don Anderson.

Five times a week the Pep Band members met to practice getting their sounds just right. One of the big factors of the group's success was that all the members were good friends and worked well together.

All the hard work and togetherness that the members shared, paid off as the Pep Band helped to generate pride and spirit at Roosevelt in all that they participated in.

Students Unite to Meet Goals

The Photo Club, sponsored by Mr. Dan Pryzbyla, raised money by selling raffle tickets, M&M's, and candy canes during the Christmas season for field trips and a pizza party.

The Spanish Club, sponsored by Mr. Ruben Elias, had a successful See's candy sale. Club President, Rita Ramirez, with the help of the Spanish Club, organized the Cinco De Mayo Dance and Queen co-rination.

Sponsored by Mr. Dave Krause and Mr. Ruben Elias, the Mexican American Club sold RRR jerseys, and tacos at the Mardi Gras tõ have field trips and a pizza party along with the Photo Club.

The majority of the Mecha Club members considered themselves "Chicanos", but the club was open to any RHS student. Sponsored by Mr. Manjarrez, the club sold corsages to the student body during Christmas. Along with the Fresno Mecha Center, the Mecha Club made posters to stop paint sniffing among teenagers.

Student Government Excells

The 1980 Roosevelt Student Council and Inter-Club Council were under the supervision of Ms. Sally Clemens. The elected student body officers were President Michael Slider, Vice President Rita Ramirez, Treasurer Mike Baladjanian, and Secretary John Medina. One responsibility the Student Council had this year was voting to select a company for Roosevelt's class rings and senior announcements.

Inter-Club Council is made up not only of all the student body officers but also the heads of all spirit groups, class officers, and the presidents of all clubs and their sponsors. The purpose of I.C.C. was to organize campus projects, Homecoming events, programs, and other student activities.

Extra Effort Keeps the Pig

In the opening game of the year, Roosevelt beat Sierra 13-8. Coach Dale Knott used a pair of "Doug Gaynor to Tony Garcia look-in passes" in a late drive of the game, including a 26 yard touchdown with a minute and twenty three seconds remaining in the game, to beat Sierra. As the season went on, Roosevelt took another victory against Fresno High. During the game, running back Alvin Walls scored with a 32 yard run, and Gaynor sneaked in from one yard out for the winning touchdown making the score 14-7.

The Football Team worked hard every day after school trying to improve their skills as a team as well as individually. Their work paid off when they won another game against Clovis West 21-6. Alvin Walls ran 12 yards for the first touchdown. Walls scored again from 6 yards out and Gaynor scored a 9 yard sweep to secure the victory. Roosevelt's capturing the "Pig" for the third straight year highlighted the varsity football season.

Defense Makes Tough Stand

Beating Fresno High, 24-12, for the first time in twelve years was the high point of the sophomore football season. Although the sophomores did not have many victories, their defense kept them alive in every game. Leading the way were two impressive sophomores at the linebacker positions, James Contreras and Mike Christensen. The defensive secondary was led by Demitrio Gonzalez who led the league with twelve interceptions, making four of them in the game against Madera.

On the offensive side, the team was led by running backs, Jimmy Vizcarrondo and Rodney Sharp. Sharp had an outstanding game against Bullard where he carried the ball twelve times for 105 yards including a 63-yard touch down run. The top receiver on the team was Eric Willis who, against Hoover, caught seven passes for 171 yards.

This year's Freshmen played many of their games at Roosevelt. The Rider Freshmen won three league games and one practice.

Hard Work Pays Off

"Great and exciting" is how Coach Lee Torres described this year's Girls Varsity Volleyball Team. The team started the year off great, but slacked off in the middle of the season. The team worked hard and practiced every day after school and showed that hard work pays off by winning their last two games. The Varsity record this year was 5-8.

Key players this year were most valuable player, Minnie Mack and Team Captain Kim Jay, and all around player, Tanya Sakata. Coach Torres said, "Although there are some key players that are graduating this year, the Juniors are well disciplined and the girls will have a successful and exciting team next year."

Netters Grow, Gymnasts Excel!

Team enthusiasm and spirit carried the JV Volleyball team to a 7-7 record this year. Coach Nan Kamansky felt that her team could have won more games, "But it was more important that all the girls get a chance to participate and improve." She also felt that, "There are some girls from this year's JV team that will help next year's varsity team."

Gymnastics was one of the new sports on the Roosevelt campus. This was their second year of competition. The team was small, but had a lot of talent. The JV team was led by Janine Sorenson and Betty Aguirrie. There were three outstanding gymnasts for the varsity. Dana Davis, whose best event was the vault, Sherri Sarserian, who was excellent in the floor exercise and the balance beam, and Freshman Necia Rains, who was an all around good gymnast. Necia was good enough to make it all the way in the Valley Finals in Visalia.

Rebuilding Team Looks Strong

High hopes started off the year for the Waterpolo team. Lack of players and expereince prevented the squad from putting many tallies in the win column.

First year Coach Greg Skaggs did the job of guiding the 1979 Waterpolo team through the rebuiiding year. Improvement in strength and precision was noticed when Roosevelt made a good showing, in the North Yosemite League Tournament, not winning many games, but coming very close.

In a game against number one ranked Hoover, the Riders fell behind 7-1 at the half. Top notch defensive play by captain, Mike Pearce and goalie, Rick Wolfe shut the Patriots out in the rest of the game. Scoring in the second half for the Riders were Frank Cornell, Steve Rystad, and Mike Pearce. However, the team fell short and lost 7-4. This year's Waterpolo team showed not to be a contender for first but gave first place teams a strong game.

Small Team Gets Big Results

Though small, this year's Varsity Cross Country Team showed that they were good competitors.

The girls' team was sparked by outstanding sophomore Sylvia Santistevan who set a new girls' school record for two miles, with a time of twelve minutes and forty three seconds, clocked on the hilly course at Woodward Park. Sylvia's name was later given to the All-League Team by the NYL coaches.

The boys' team was led by sophomore David Perez who placed second in the Madera Invitational and captured first in the City and NYL meets. David's name was also given to the All-League Team. Gilbert Escamillo and Harlan Young won medals in the City and NYL meets. Rounding out the team was Senior Team Captain Eddie Carpenter and Marcus Kepler who was selected as most improved on the team.

Riders Display Above Average Season

Exciting games composed the Rough Rider's 1979-1980 Basketball schedule. The stage was set for the best of the season when Marvin Jackmon made a shot at the buzzer to beat Lemoore in the opening game. Many of the Games were decided by fewer than three points.

The Rough Riders finished the year with a 13-7 overall record and 10-6 in league play, which was good for third place, just one game behind Clovis West. Some of the Year's highlights were; third place in the Holiday Invitational Tournament, beating Edison twice, and coming from behind numerous times to win close games.

Leading the team was Bob Jacobsen, who topped the squad in scoring and free-throws, and second in rebounds. Other standouts were top rebounder and third highest scorer, Mike Slider, assists leader, Ken Rollans, and second highest scorer Doug Gaynor.

Third year Coach Syd Pratt's biggest disappointment was being "unable to beat Clovis West at least once." Pratt summed-up the year as "A better than average season". The players all played hard and did their best. That is all any coach can ask of a team.

Roller Coaster Season Seen

Rough Rider Junior Varsity Basketball this year can best be compared to a roller coaster. It was a season of sometimes playing like a championship team and other times playing like a last place team.

The J.V.'s were led by playmakers, Russ Johnson and Captain Joey Munoz. Leading rebounders were Marcos Collins, Mike Christensen, Donald Reason, and Jim Rodens. Top shooters were Odis Denies, Paul Perry, and "Mr. Hustle," Jimmy Vizcarrondo. Coach's Awards went to Hank Garcia and Jim Rodens, and Player's award went to Paul Perry.

The Freshman basketball team had high hopes at the beginning of the year but ran into problems and had a difficult first half. The second half of the season lived up to their expectations as the Frosh team defeated most of the teams who had beaten them previously.

Team Gains Experience

Roosevelt's Girls Varsity Basketball team, led by Coach Aubery, took the DIRECTION of building and improving for next year. With only one senior member, the team was made up of inexperienced but enthusiastic players. At the start of the season, the girls' inexperience showed through, however they ended the year with a 2-14 record defeating McLane and Edison. The year's outstanding players were juniors, Sherry Gorris and Pat Polk. Sherry took the honor of making the all-league team while Pat earned a place on the second team.

The Junior Varsity Girls Basketball team started off the year with good spirits that maintained them through the whole season. Guided by Coach Reimer, the J.V. team's enthusiasm carried them to many victories in competitive basketball.

Team Boasts Top Record

Enthusiasm was high as the Wrestling Team started the year. Under the direction of Coaches Lee Torres and Glenn Ewert, the team worked hard on individual wrestling effort and group responsibilities during practices.

The team's record was 3-5 with victories over McLane, Edison, and Madera. Helping in these victories were top wrestlers Renee Torres (24-4), and Tom Emerzian (28-1). Tom had an outstanding record in the Clovis, Cal Poly, and San Jose tournament and he finished second in the Valley Championships.

Coach Torres had greater expectations for the overall team this year but he reported that he was proud to have had such a hard working group of wrestlers like those he worked with in 1980.

Practice Basis of Success

While getting ready for the 1980 soccer season, the JV Soccer Team stressed improvement in their practices. The majority of the players were sophomores but all worked well together as a team with great spirit. Coach Lavon Baladjanian kept the team going throughout the total of 10 games, with 4 wins, 1 tie, and 5 losses. The top players were: fullback, Dino Trejo, guard Richard Milton, center forward Lucio Silvas, halfbacks, Mark Weldon and Enrique Rosales.

Hard and constant practice resulted in a successful season for the freshmen wrestlers. For many of them, this was their first year of wrestling, and for all of them, it was their first year of working together as a team. They showed enthusiasm throughout the season and worked hard together. The team was a balanced one showing hopeful potential for the future.

Close Scores Disappoint Riders

Losing so many close games left the Boys' Varsity Soccer team with a record of 7 wins and 6 losses in this year's disappointing season. There were two games that went into double overtime in which the Roosevelt team lost 2 to 1 to Bullard in the Harold Young Invitational and to Hoover in the NYL Pre-season Tournament by the score of 2 to 1.

The team, under the direction of Coach Lavery, worked hard at daily after school practices. The top players were: All League NYL senior Mike Baladjanian, senior Ramon Rodriguez and sophomore Alfonso Romero. Offense was led by Mike Baladjanian, and Alfonso Romero, along with forward, senior Angel Marquez. A strong defense was anchored by All League selection, senior Ramon Rodriguez, senior goalie Alan Metzler, junior fullbacks, Mark Talens and Ted Uyesaka, and sophomore fullback Joe Certa.

Teamwork and Effort Get Wins

Team work, required in many sports, was the main factor in the successful record of this year's Girls Varsity Soccer Team since they had 11 wins and only 5 losses. The team improved from last year because there was greater cooperation among team members. Coach Joe Jimenez pushed his players and worked them hard, with a lot of pressure. This pressure helped create outstanding players like Mary Lucio, Theresa Hernandez, Cynthia Molina, and Rosalie Hernandez, who were chosen for the NYL All Star Team of 36 players as well as Anna Lopez who made the second team of the NYL All Stars.

The most memorable game of the year was the one against Clovis West. The score was tied until the very last minute, when the spirited RHS team came through with one of their many victories.

Effort Gets Results

Coach Fernie Garcia reported that his Varsity Baseball Team was first he'd ever coached. Their dedication and hard work produced a season record that represented their effort. Outstanding Varsity players were: Ken Rollans, Bob Jacobsen, Mike Margarian, and Steve Arviso. The season was made up of the usual ups and downs with many players returning from last year to demonstrate what experience was all about. This year's team would be remembered as one that had the most pride and spirit of any in recent memory.

Hurlers See Big Turnout

With a large turnout of 48 players, the JV Baseball season started out incredibly enthusiastic. Because it was Coach Bob Myers' first year for coaching the JV Team, he was pleased with the number of boys that were interested in playing but realized that the club's size had to be reduced. Among the top players of the total of 21, were: Jim Viscarrando, Eric Willis, Marael Bustos, and Raul Valdez. Both infield and outfield were strong points for the team and Coach Myers felt that with hard work throughout the season, the boys would learn a lot and give all they had and prove to be an asset for next year's Varsity Team.

Every weekday after school, Coach Dan Branco gave the Freshman Baseball Team encouragement as they worked out hard during their practices. Usually playing their games on Wednesdays and Saturdays, they used the RHS Varsity diamond, but during practice, they shared the JV field. Teamwork was inspired by Coach Branco and the boys displayed all their skills as they strove for completeness, each proving their ability to be a solid member of the strong club.

Coach Makes Most of Players

Despite a lack of sprinters and team depth , Coach Jim Fletcher was pleased with the progress made by most of the players. Tony Greathouse, Jose Hernandez, Wes Tanner, and Dan Fernandez were the team's season standouts. Tony excelled in the low hurdles and was a notable anchor on the mile relay Jose also ran the low hurdles and was on the mile relay team as well. With practice and hard work the Track Team completed a season of group and individual effort that could be remembered with pride.

Practice and Precision Pay Off

Coach Barbara Thorman reported that the tennis teams did an outstanding job this year in their morning and after school practices. The boys team practiced from 6:30 to 8:00 in the morning and the girls practiced from 2:30 to 5:00 in the afternoon.

Overcoming inexperience this year, many students stood out. These outstanding players were: Kathy Horsemann, Anna Fox, Brooke Gerard and one player who came up as a strong singles player, Stan Webb. Strong doubles players were: Mike Baladjanian, Keven Klassen and Ted Uyesaka, along with David Nunez.

The teams worked to achieve precision in their individual styles as well as having confidence in themselves and their fellow players as the seasons closed.

Riders See Second Season in Two Sports

Despite being in its second season at Roosevelt, the Boys Volleyball Team proved that they were really competitive this year. Hard daily workouts proved worthwhile for the squad. Practice brought about a lot of hustle and teamwork that was so necessary for a successful season.

Although at a disadvantage in most cases, because of their height, the team came through with well played matches behind the strong playing of Fernando Cuevas and the leadership of Coach Lee Torres.

This year's Freshman Tennis Team performed well but unfortunately had to forfeit five sets out of each match because of a lack of players. The team, led by Sara Niboli, Susan Wright, and Matt Karcher, consisted of eight girls and three boys that gave all they had in every match.

Coach Franceleen Dutra was happy with the season and found the players of the entire team "fun to work with".

Teams Look For Success

Under first year Coach Greg Skaggs, the Boys' Swim Team looked forward to a successful and competitive year. "Although we're not a big team," Coach Skaggs said, "the boys will do well." This year's team was led by returning veteran John Christensen.

Heading the Girls' Swim team this season, Coach Colleen Wigington helped the girls get ready for league meets in only three weeks time. Daily conditioning, rain or shine, was necessary to prepare the girls for their season ahead.

Springing into the year, the Diving Team looked forward to the coming season. With many returning divers, Coach Alan Kennedy expected to have an exciting team and win many meets this year.

Team Shows Defense and Experience

Defense was the main strength of this year's Girls Varsity Softball Team. It led them to a near victory over last year's League championship team Hoover; with a score of 3-2. Coaches Jeff Traffican and Ben Ainley shared the experience of training and working with this year's fine team. Among the top players were Tanya Sakata, pitcher, sophomore Jaunita Henderson, catcher, and Anna Lopez, shortstop.

First year coach Sheryl Goedhard found that the Freshman team was strong because of their knowledge and previous experience with the game. To Coach Goedhard, the job of instructing the girls was enjoyable. Although all the players excelled in their positions, the team was led by the skilled performances of; Donna Ball, Susan Collins, and Cathy Salud. However, it was disappointing when it was realized that only three players would be returning to play on next year's Softball Teams, because all of those leaving had excellent potential and would have been real assets to future teams at RHS.

Boxers Continue Tradition

The boxers that worked out during the P.E. periods looked better than ever this year. Boxing has been a traditional sport at Roosevelt, but has not often appeared in the Nautilus.

The main things the boxers worked out on when getting ready for the tournaments were: the speed bag, the heavy bag, jumping rope, running, and stomach strength exercises.

The matches were held during lunch in the spring, with each match lasting three, two minute rounds. Money made from the entrance fee charged at these matches was used to buy new equipment for next year's boxers and also for shirts that the boxers received for fighting in the tournament.

Return Reshapes Administration

When Mr. Robert Scambray returned near the end of the first quarter, a repositioning of Administrative members was in order. Mr. Scambray, who had taken a leave of absence, resumed his role as Vice Principal. Acting Vice Principal Mr. James Ambrose, then returned as the Dean of Boys, his former position before Mr. Scambray's leave of absence. With Mr. Ambrose as Dean of Boys, Mr. Al Pizarro again became a counselor. Having no other administrative positions open at Roosevelt, Miss Carole Sarkisian was promoted to a permanent counselor's position at Edison High School.

Having proven their abilities in their temporary positions, we hope that the appointees will have an opportunity to achieve those positions permanently.

Busy Office Helps Many

This year the secretaries remained very familar to the returning students. The attendance office was a big part of the "Get Tough Policy" as it kept a close account of the class cuts taking place during the year.

The staff was helped by the many student aides who gained secretarial experience and credits for graduation.

Since the secretarial staff was determined by the number of students on campus, a change of the number of staff members was not forseen for next year.

Head secretary, Mrs. Rona Parfitt, reported that the office becomes very busy with the switchboard, parents, district personnel, and student activities, and that sometimes it's hard to keep up with everything in her usual friendly way.

Arts Expands, Sees Infusion

Career infusion, basic skills reinforcement, and competency testing, were the areas emphasized in the Art Department this year. Mrs. Lee Weaver, art instructor, reported that art career information was incorporated into regular art classes and that the entire district curriculum was revised.

Mrs. Mary Manzo worked in the Skill Reinforcement Center as a full time Title I aide. Mrs. Manzo coordinated all testing of students in the basics of reading and math. Heading up the art service class was a new instructor, Mr. Bill Smart. Mr. Smart and his art classes did much to boost the spirit of RHS students through the making of posters for the rallies and assemblies. Newly elected department chairperson Mr. Dick Daniels became the yearbook advisor as the yearbook class returned to the Art Department. Mr. Vernon Huebschwerlen was another addition to the staff.

Business Skills Lead to Jobs

Skills needed for college and jobs may be acquired through the business department. Instructors are constantly updating their education and instructional skills. Mr. James Crump, Department Chairperson, reported that he is proud to say that "When students leave RHS they have employable job skills to use beyond high school."

Teachers and programs remained very similar to previous years with the addition of new knowledge and broader objectives.

Limited Offerings Foreseen

Consumer Homemaking's goal included the three R's and making students worldly wise. During the summer, all the teachers in the department enrolled in courses dealing with many aspects of Consumer Homemaking.

Next year, Social Living II will be added as a mandatory class for all graduating seniors. Included in the course will be a nine week session on parenting. According to Department Chairperson Mrs. Delores Robinson, the new course will put a strain on the many classes available and on the faculty members who teach them. The added required classes may limit new course offerings, basic skills reinforcement, and even maintenance of the existing program, she added.

Students Earn Jobs, Awards

Department Chairperson Mr. Ken Sakata reported that the emphasis in the Industrial Arts Department is placed upon practices, requirements of related occupations, and needed skills. Mr. Sakata went on to report that the knowledge, skills, and experience acquired in the Industrial Arts Program can be of valuable assistance to students in selecting careers and in choosing further vocational training.

Mrs. Margaret Stannard became the new Agriculture Vocational teacher this year. She gave much support to the RHS Future Farmers of America program and their many exhibits at the Fresno District Fair.

Math Requires Exam for Grads

Seniors have scored higher in math tests, which has caused a drop in the number of senior math students. The main emphasis of the department was on the knowledge, skills, and an understanding of math.

The Compensatory Education Program lent support to the department. Mr. Raul Greene, Department Chairperson, and director of the Math Resource Center reported that the Compensatory Education Program continued the Math Tutorial Center, which allowed teachers and aides to help students during any part of the day. Math was also reinforced in elective courses which were also provided.

Many more students were taking math either because they needed basic skills for graduation, or out of personal interests.

Mechanics of the English language were emphasized by the Language Arts Department. Literature usage, values, and decision making were also emphasized in the various programs.

Some of the new faces added to the department were Mr. Huebschwerlen, who came from Kings Canyon Middle School, and Mr. Neer, who came from Edison High School.

Remedial classes were added to the Language Arts Department to assist those students who did not pass their proficiency exam for graduation. A few of the elective courses included: forensics, college English skills, world humanitites, American humanities, and public speaking.

Performers Add Staff, Awards

The Performing Arts Department had major changes in personnel for 1980. Mr. Don Anderson, new to Roosevelt, became the new band director and was also elected department chairperson. Mr. Anderson began a transition to a strict corps-type marching band; which led to major parade and halftime awards.

The RHS drama classes took new DIRECTIONS as they performed a few skits in their first appearance under the guidance of the new drama instructor, Mr. Mike Dyer.

The marimba dancers and band were again featured in many Roosevelt assemblies and community programs. They were especially impressive at the Christmas assembly where Dr. Stremple, Fresno Unified School's superintendent, personally noted their outstanding achievement. Their efforts were again recognized in their annual performances in Mexico and other U.S. communities.

The Foreign Language department remained strong in its teachings of grammer, pronunciation, and vocabulary and continued to emphasize the audio and oral aspects of the language.

Newly elected Department Chairperson, Mr. Oscar Sumner, reported that it is very important to know a second language because it has become clear that we must concentrate on all languages of the world.

The department consists of three languages: French, German, and Spanish, with Spanish having the largest number of students. Mr. Sumner also said that although they already have a large enrollment for the number of teachers, they would still like to have more students.

Mini, Co-Ed and Pep Offered

The PE department had two department chairpersons. Mrs. Nan Kamansky headed the ladies PE staff and Mr. Jack Gregory headed the men's PE staff.

The six week elective courses filled very quickly. After the first nine weeks of school, co-ed PE courses were offered. Some of the courses offered were: Tennis, jogging, skiing, disco dancing and flag football. Fitness became more important to everyone and PE encouraged that attitude. Competition added to the fun of staying physically and mentally fit.

Pep squads also maintained their fitness through spirit and pride. The squads were under the direction of Mrs. Sheryl Goedhard who was new to the PE staff this year.

Science Covers Many Areas

Science was divided into three divisions this year; Physical Science, Biological Science, and Military Science. Mr. Bob Kincade headed the Physical section of which he is the only member. Mr. Ed Barton took charge of the Biology department while Mr. Roy Mattox was commander of the Military program. The only new staff member was Mr. Vernon Huebschwerlen who was added to the biology department.

The main purpose of Military science was to stress leadership, patriotism, and citizenship reported Mr. Roy Mattox.

Communication Breaks Barrier

Special Education at Roosevelt is a complete program using all forms of communication to teach the deaf and severely hard of hearing students. Since communication is the greatest single barrier faced by deaf students, classroom emphasis was put on how to cope with living and working in the hearing world. Students participated in class work geared to their individual capabilities as well as regular classes. Outside activities included art, PE, typing, and work experience at the RHS kitchen, Valley Medical Center and the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Backgrounds Could Expand Classes

If there had been greater student interest, the Social Science Department would have offered a wider variety of courses. Department Head, Mr. Sid Pratt, said, "Roosevelt has teachers with different cultural backgrounds that are willing to open courses upon student demand, and experiment with different methods of teaching." Courses such as American Government and U.S. History, that were also offered as bilingual courses by Mr. Ruben Elias and Mrs. Susan Korsinen, involved team teaching. Advanced Placement U.S. History was an elective, actually taught as a college course by Mr. David Sischo. Further course offerings possible included classes in World History, Psychology, World Geography, Mexican History and Mexican Americans in the 20th Century. There was also an independent program called directed study, made especially for those students that wanted to work on their own.

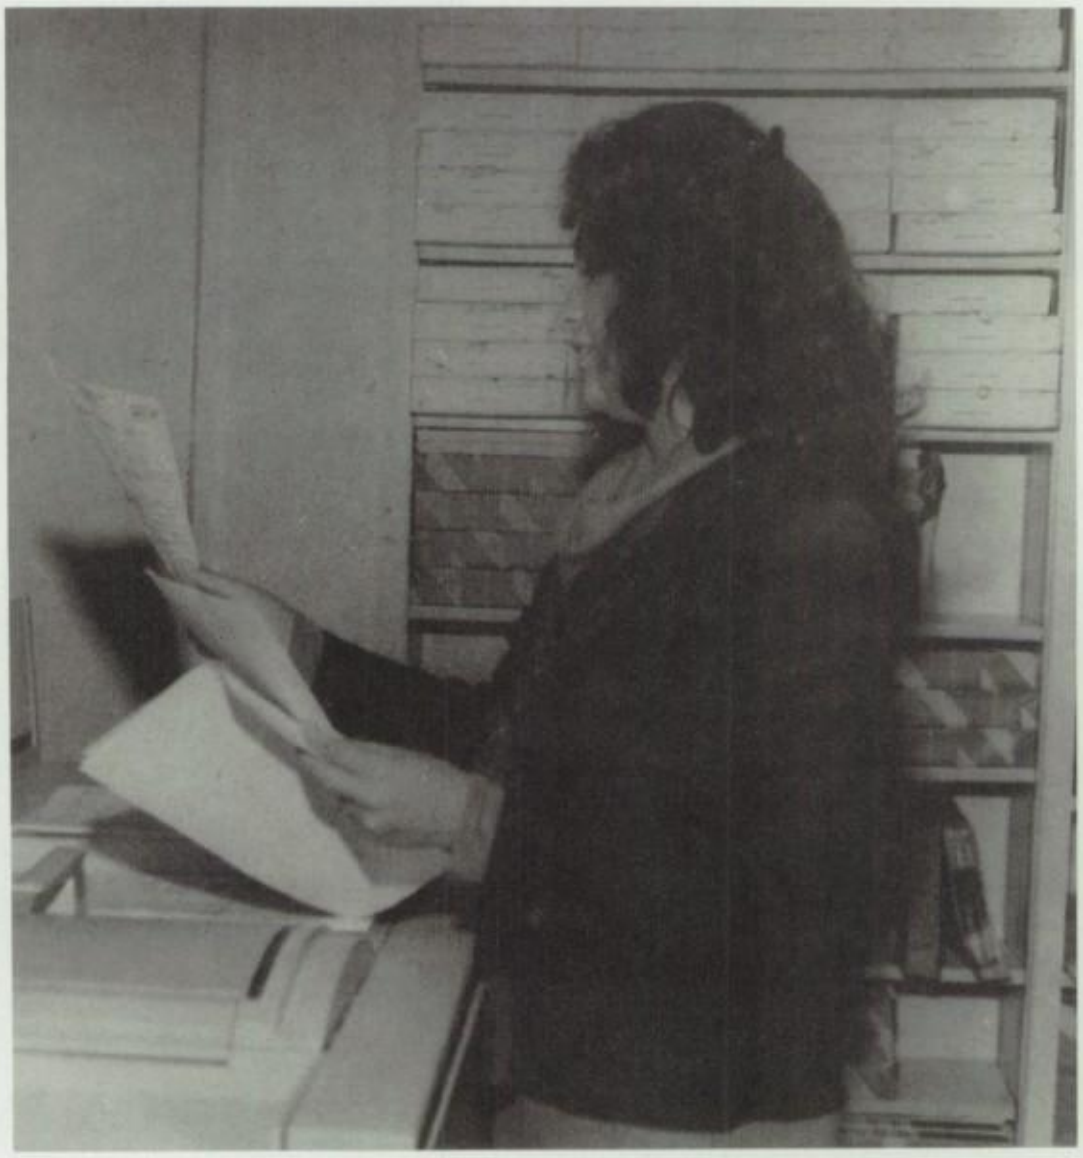
Basic Skills Reinforced

Although generally referred to as the "Comp Ed Program" the Roosevelt Compensatory Education Program's main purpose was to provide extra assistance for those students with academic ability that weren't working up to their capacity.

Many adult aides were added to RHS under this program and they worked with students to stress basic skill in all courses and departments.

Mr. Mike Heinz, Program Manager, reported that the program is constantly being evaluated after which it is up-dated with needed changes and different staff arrangements.

The Career Center, run by Mrs. Queenie Emerzian, was open to all students seeking information about different fields of work. Filmstrips, books pamphlets, records and tapes, were available for those who inquired. Mrs. Emerzian invited and scheduled many guest from the armed forces and colleges to speak to interested students. The Air Force's ASVAB test helped many students evaluate their own strengths and to assist them in planning for their future.



Nutrition Stressed Over Junk

The Roosevelt cafeteria experienced major changes this year. Cafeteria manager, Mrs. Sue DeLiddo reported that the menus had been completely changed. A nutritionist planned all menus and periodically checked to see if the new standards for nutrition were followed.

The long range goal of the cooks was to follow the planning of balanced meals including all vitamins, protein, and minerals needed for good health.

Auditorium Manager, Mr. Manuel DeMorrales, and Lead Custodian, Walt Ruby, reported that the custodians main responsibilities were to clean rooms, the campus, and the auditorium after all performances. Mr. DeMorales had charge of all staff working schedules and control of the programming of electrical arrangements such as microphones and lights.

The campus was something to be proud of after students were reminded at the beginning of the year to clean up.

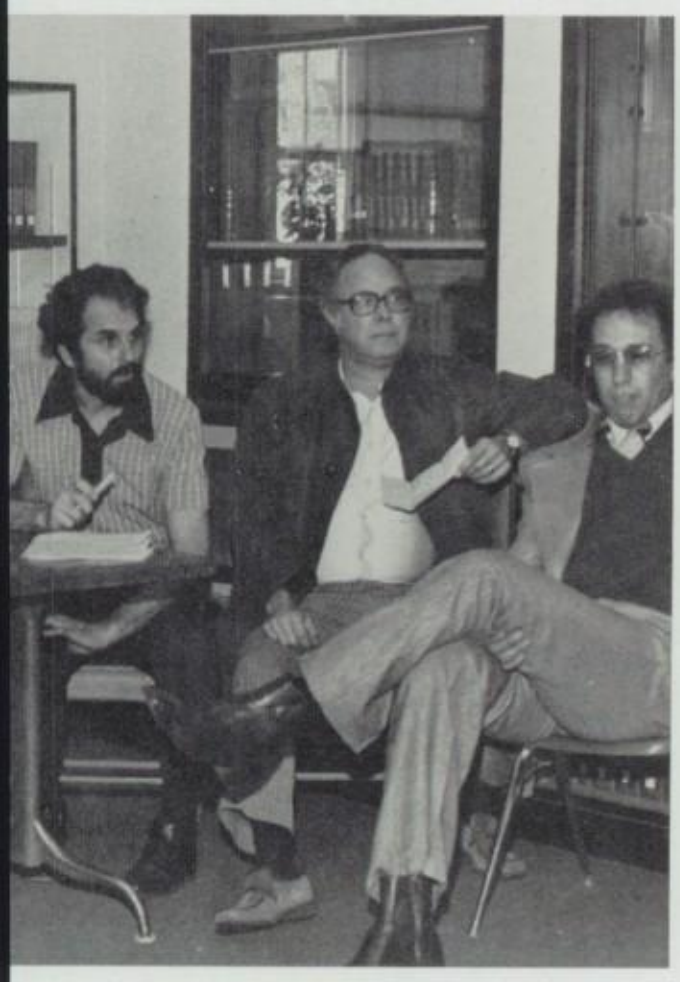
Groups Bring School Together

The main objective of the Boosters Club, Parent Advisory Committee (PAC), On Site Council, and the PTA, was tying together the activities of parents, teachers, and students.

The Boosters Club sponsored the Fall, Winter, and Spring Sports Banquets to spotlight the achievements of RHS athletes as well as the Spaghetti Dinner fund raiser.

The School Advisory Committee (SAC), sponsored by the Comp Ed Department, changed its name to the Parent Advisory Committee (PAC). The Committee advised the school about all related subjects. The On Site Council's purpose was to act as a community, parent, teacher, and school district laison group. Representatives from each department met as a group with Principal Joe Spino to plan and coordinate goals for the departments. Parents also attended the meetings to help coordinate the school's plans. It was reported that a school-wide evaluation was conducted by district personnel.

Although they had a small turnout, the PTA was still able to sponsor many of the traditional senior activities. The main concern of this year's PTA was to gain more parent participation for next year's program.



Seniors Strive for Goals

Some Seniors of the Class of '80 achieved recognition for their excellence in scholastic and athletic areas.

In the sports field, senior athletes, helped keep RHS in the thick of the NYL contests. Wrestler Tom Emerzian showed his prowess on the mats as he placed second in the valley championships. In basketball, Bob Jacobsen was highly honored as he was nominated for the prestigious McDonald's All-America Team by Coach Syd Pratt. Being named to the All-League First Team was a great reward for Mike Baladjanian and Ramon Rodriguez as they helped the Roosevelt soccer team to another winning season.

In the scholastic area, Roosevelt students were honored with many awards. Kevin Klassen was the Gemco Scholarship nominee from Roosevelt and also a finalist for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Merit scholarships. Allyson Brooke Gerard was the other PPG finalist and was also named Roosevelt's Exchange Club Girl of the Year. Nominees for the Bank of America scholarships were Kevin Klassen for science and math, Allyson Brooke Gerard for liberal arts, Janine Sorensen for fine arts, and Julie Ambarian for vocational arts.

Forward
To The Future

Along with class officers, President Anna Melgoza, Vice President Tom Emerzian, Secretary Michael Ogle, and Treasurer Theresa Riley, the class of 1980 looked anxiously forward to a new and exciting future. Their year was filled with many different activities such as getting their grades together, worrying about their college applications, choosing their senior announcements and of course fund-raising for the prom and the very popular trip to Disneyland.

Some fund-raising was organized this year by Ms. Sally Clemens. A variety of sales were used to raise money. Some of these items were: cards, placemats, candles, stationery, and senior T-shirts, which were printed with the names of all graduating seniors. At the major fund-raising sale, a goal of a hundred participating salesmen was reached, and all were encouraged by the top-salesman award.

Seniors Receive Directions

A great amount of assistance and special attention was given by the Fresno Educational Opportunity Center to this year's seniors. This center has been providing help in post-graduate admissions at Roosevelt for ten years especially in the areas of financial aid; counseling and tutorial assistance. For the past three years, Ms. Debbie Renteria was the representative from the center assigning seniors that applied for post-secondary schoools admission, which included junior colleges and vocational schools. She also helped students apply for federal grants, state monies, and scholarships that were offered as well as teaching students how to use college catalogues. An effort to inform students of opportunities and advantages open to them was emphasized.

Class Sets Funds as Goal

The Junior class officers led by President, David Nunez along with Vice President Chrisy Camacho, Secretary Sheri Rogers, and Treasurer Angela Abrahamian had quite a few projects in mind for the 1979-1980 school year. Their main objective for the year was to raise money for the initiation of a new spirit program and the Prom. They sold various things in order to raise the money needed for this project.

The officers were enrolled in leadership classes and were planning to attend summer sessions in preparation for their senior year.

Held at the Hilton Hotel with the popular band, Touch, the 1980 Junior/Senior Prom was attended and appreciated by many students from both classes.

The success was due to careful yearlong organization. Money was raised by the Junior class, mainly from Super Dollar and balloon sales. Once organized, the committee made the decisions and put together the bids and the Prom theme.

It was decided that any money made from the Prom was to be used to pay off the yearbook debt. Paying the debt would make it possible for Senior pictures to be in color next year.

Migrant Student Jobs Found

Besides working extremely hard in their academic classes because of the language barrier, forty out of the 250 migrant students also fit many different jobs into their schedule.

These students got special help from the migrant students program headed by Mr. Glenn Bundy. Their positions included some downtown and on campus. Most received minimum wages. Some of these students were Laura Morgutia, an aide for night school at Roosevelt, Guadelupe Gonzalez helped out at the Fresno County Library, and Aida Contreras worked in the office with Mrs. Eileen Holly. Others were also able to participate at the District's Audio/Visual Department. All jobs were filled based on the educational and vocational ability of the students involved.

There were five teacher assistants and one resource teacher on campus who were always willing to help. The special assistance and the job placement program seemed to help many students stay in school who might have quit before graduation.

Foreign Exchange Students at Roosevelt

Past years have seen many foreign exchange students on the Roosevelt campus. This year, from Japan, Koichi Yoshida is attending the school.

Koichi is a native of Japan, but this year he changed his usual lifestyle and came to America to study. Koichi has studied English for three years before becoming a sophomore here at Roosevelt.

After speaking with Koichi, it was discovered great differences exist between American and Japanese schools. The Japanese students do not move from class to class, instead the teachers do.

The families of Japan are also quite different. They are much closer than American families. In Japan, the grandparents and other relatives are just as close as parents and children are here.

"Super Class" Loses Chief

This is the second year that John Jiminez, President and Abel Salinas, Vice President along with Irene Blanco, secretary have worked together as class officers. With the early departure of the class president, John Jiminez, Abel Salinas assumed the president's duties. Senators Amy Burrows and Karen Hovland were newcomers to the group but managed to do more than their usual share of the job.

The class managed to select the 1982 class rings, plan future activities, visit other student councils and add spirit to rallies and assemblies. The class also chose as their class moto; "The super class of '82.

Freshmen Find New Home

For the first few days of school the freshmen found themselves lost in a big and confusing campus, but as time passed, they all adapted to their situation. Most of them felt positive about the school year.

Bussing was still the main issue in the daily life of the freshmen. Their day had to start earlier than many others so that they could be ready to catch the bus. For some it was no big problem, but for others it was rather difficult, especially for those with a paper route. As soon as the bell released the students from sixth period, it was another race to the bus stop. Many felt trapped in this schedule, but for those who were involved in extra curriculur activities, the school day did not end until late in the afternoon. The bus ride soon became enjoyable, after all, being with friends usually is.

Ladies Lead Freshmen

With sponsors, Ben Ainley and Jeff Trafican, the freshmen class was led by an all-lady government.

Their number one objective was to unite the freshmen class into a spiritied group of students. Having this unity in mind, the class officers planned different ways to reach it.

First, they proposed to raise money by selling class of '83 T-shirts and by sponsoring a dance. With the money they raised they hoped to be able to have an Activity Day for all the freshmen in the school. Ideas for this day ranged from a snow trip, to a day at Clovis Lakes.

Determination and spirit were used to bring the freshman together as a class.

News Adds to MGM Awareness

Four MGM classes were provided for the freshmen MGM students this year. Geography and English were required, and French and German were offered as electives. Mr. Ewert was the geography teacher and the organizer for the MGM activities. When asked how MGM student differed from other students, Mr. Ewert replied that they were just regular students who were more aware of their surroundings, because they worked on national and international current events. Mr. Ewert planned to have his class attend the Town Hall Series at the Convention Center. The Town Hall Series consisted of lectures given by internationally known people like Herbert Kein, ex-press aide to Richard Nixon.

No extended field trip was planned due to rather limited funds.

Years of Service Greatly Appreciated

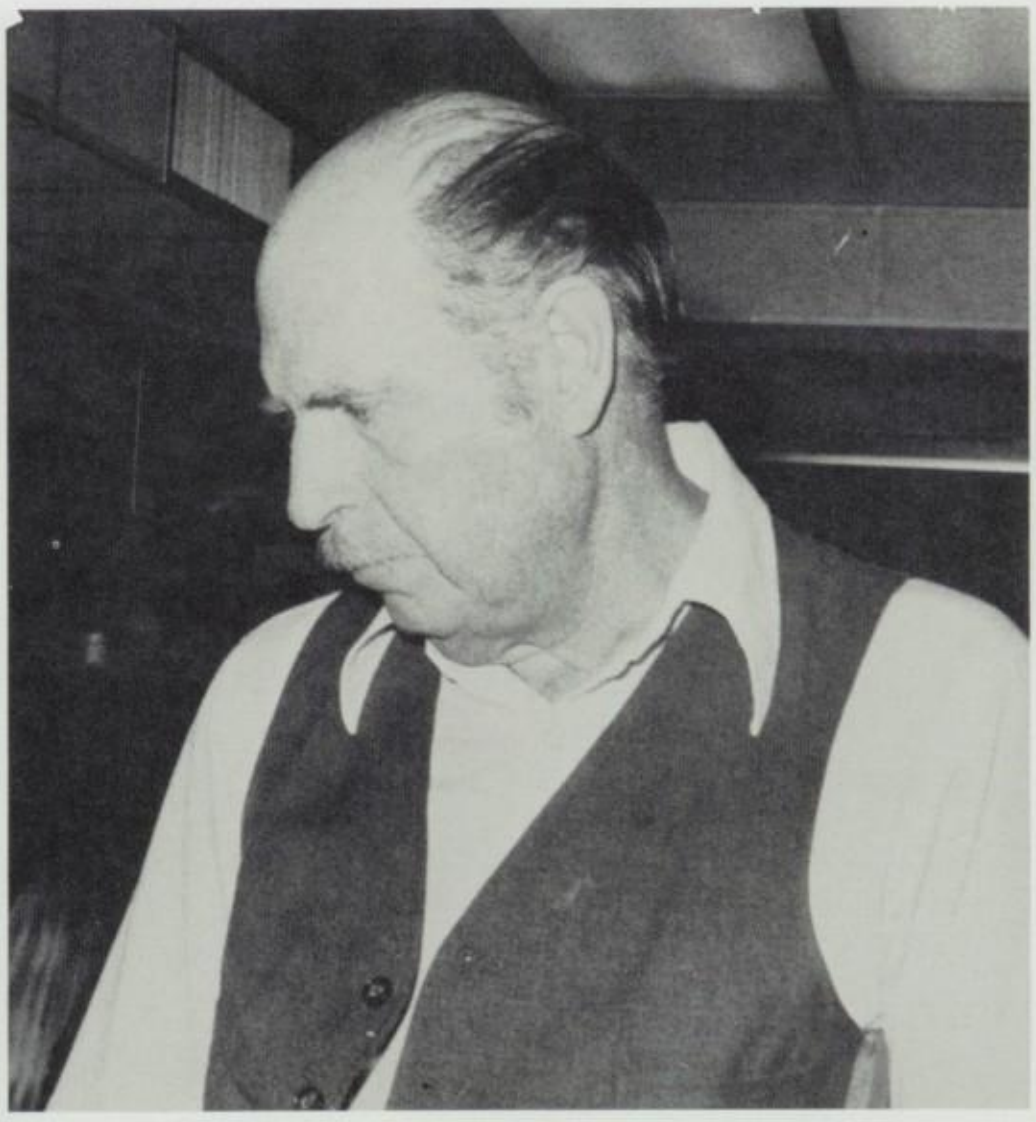
1980 saw five of Roosevelt's outstanding faculty members leave at various times of the year. First to leave was Miss Carole Sarkisian, because of a permanent administrative opening at Edison High School. Miss Sarkisian frequently visits the RHS campus and attends various athletic events, still being a Rough Rider at heart.

Taking their leave at the end of Fall semester were science teacher, Mr. John Heston and English instructor, Mr. Andrew Kachadorian. One of Mr. Kachadorian's classes bid him a happy farewell by throwing a party for him.

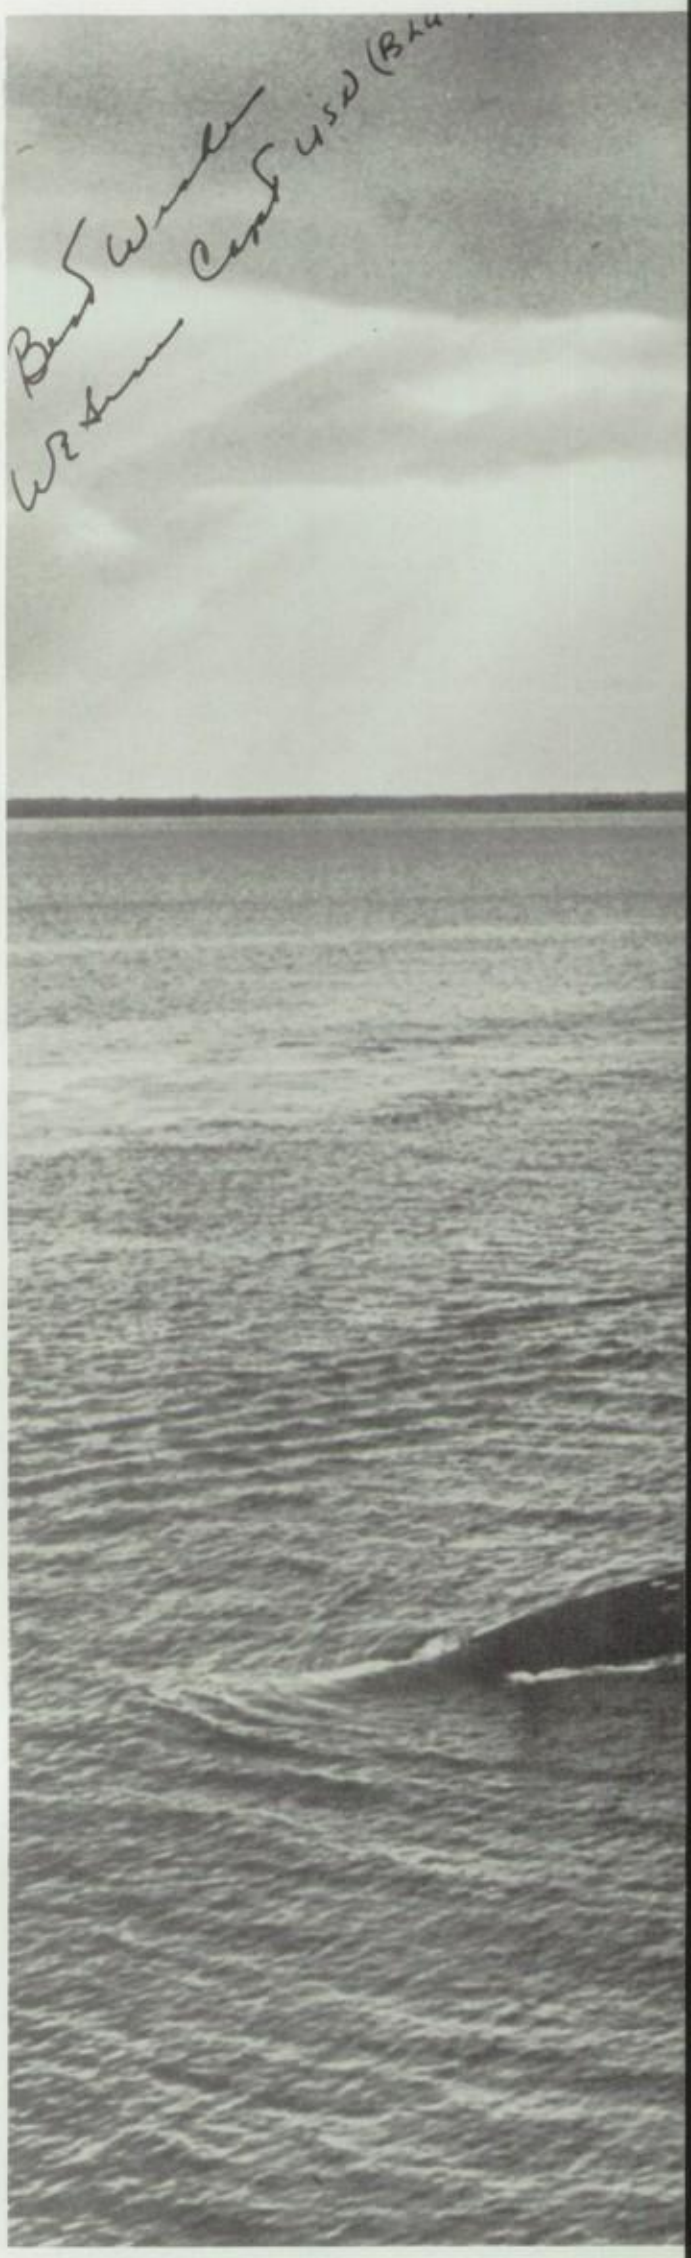
Mr. James Ambrose left RHS later in the year to assume the Vice Principalship at Bullard High School.

After many years of service as RHS Auditorium manager, Mr. Manuel Demorales retired this year. His hard work and care is manifested in the "brand new" appearance of the auditorium, even 20 years after its completion. Mr. Demorales handled the general upkeep of the building and the grounds that surround it.

The Nautilus thanks these dedicated adults for their many years of service and wishes them luck in both their present and future endeavors.



FAREWELL AND GOOD LUCK! . . . THE NAUTILUS STAFF



Here it is, the polished, [illegible]ted edition of the 1980 [illegible]s! Assembled with great dedication and responsi[illegible], this book embodies the [illegible]r's events at RHS, and the people who made them happen. As you turn the pages of this book and routinely look for pictures of yourself and friends, try to see beyond all that, the deep meaning and care that went into this book's creation.

The staff that made everything come together this year was formulated by people who were mostly new to yearbook production, including the editors. At times, the late deadlines and tremendous pressure brought out the worst in us, but we feel that we are all better for having endured it, and have in fact, matured because of it.

Special thanks are given to Mr. Richard Daniels who advised, educated, and put up with us. Most of all, we thank him for making us do the work ourselves—it makes the book mean all the more to us. We would also like to thank our representative from Herff Jones, Tom Larson, Hood Studio, and those editors on the staff who contributed more than their share to the book's completion.

In closing, we hope that the graduating class of 1980 will find prosperous DIRECTIONS in life and have enduring good memories of their years at Theodore Roosevelt High School.
